TOP 5 REASONS WHY JOHN TORY SHOULD BE MAYOR OF TORONTO?

1 He will build SmartTrack

SmartTrack will move the most people in the shortest time. It will be 53km, have 22 stops, and be built in 7 years without new taxes. SmartTrack will bring city-wide relief, no disruption of traffic and will be accessible across the entire city.

2 He can work with Council to get things done

John has a track record of bringing people together. He was a founding Board Member and former Chair of the Greater Toronto CivicAction Alliance. CivicAction is a highly-respected city-building organization that brings together city leaders – academic, union, private sector, non-profit - to tackle pressing economic, social and environmental issues in the region.

John believes that the four years of divisiveness this city has experienced needs to end. It's time for one Toronto – a time to end pitting downtown against the suburbs and a time for all of us to work together as one city

3 He will keep taxes at or below the rate of inflation

John Tory will keep property taxes at or below the rate of inflation, and he will respect taxpayers' money. Further, John will bring accountability back to City Hall.

4 He will respect and honour the collective bargaining process

John Tory respects unions. As Mayor, he will be present, available, and willing to work closely with the public sector and unions.

5 Right guy at the right time

After four years of division and chaos on Council, John wants to bring a new style of leadership to City Hall. John will work with Council to finally get things done for Toronto. He will also work closely with the other levels of government to make sure Toronto gets treated the way it should as Canada's biggest city.
